Dear Birth Mother..

Hello!

First, thank you from the bottom of our hearts for considering adoption. Your strength and courage in making this decision are truly inspiring, and because of you, we may have the incredible blessing of becoming parents. Please know that we are holding you and your precious baby in our thoughts and prayers as this journey unfolds.

We promise that your child will always know about you—your love, your bravery, and the selfless choice you made to give them a life full of love and opportunity. As your baby grows within you, our hearts are growing too—with hope, love, and deep respect for you.

"For this child, we have prayed... and the Lord has granted us what we have asked of him"

Hello

it's so nice to meet you.

Hi there..

Thank you so much for taking the time to read our profile.

Craig and I have been together for 19 years and married for 17 of those. Our relationship is built on a deep, lasting love that has carried us through many chapters of life—one of the most important being our desire to become parents.

We spent years trying to grow our family on our own, followed by several rounds of infertility treatments, but none were successful. Through many prayers and a lot of reflection, we realized that adoption was the path we were meant to take.

Our hearts are fully open, and our family is beyond excited to welcome and love your baby with the same joy and care we will. We believe in showing love every day—whether it's through small surprises or meaningful conversations—and we always keep communication open and honest. This is the kind of home and relationship we hope to share with your child.

With Love & Appreciation, Craig & Andrea

Our Love Story

Est. 2006

We met in 2006, and from that moment on, we knew we shared something special. Our connection was immediate, and over the years, we built a relationship rooted in love, trust, and mutual respect.

In 2007, we made the decision to marry, and it was one of the happiest days of our lives. Since then, we've continued to grow together, supporting each other's dreams, celebrating each other's successes, and facing life's challenges hand-in-hand.

Our love story has been filled with joy, laughter, and a deep commitment to one another, and now we are excited to expand our family and share that love with a child. We know that our home will be a place of warmth, security, and endless love for the little one who will join our family.

We strive to love stronger and laugh harder than the day before.

Our Story

Why Adoption...

Our desire to become parents has grown deeper and stronger over time. Though the path to parenthood hasn't been what we originally imagined, our hearts remain open and full of hope. We believe adoption is the way we are meant to grow our family, and we are filled with anticipation and joy at the thought of welcoming a child into our lives

We have long dreamed of sharing all the beautiful, everyday moments that come with raising a child—from bedtime stories and Bible school to holiday traditions like playing Santa. We look forward to the big milestones and the small in-between moments that make up a life filled with love, laughter, and connection. Most of all, we are ready to provide a child with a home that is stable, nurturing, joyful, and deeply loving.

Our home is ready, and our hearts are even more so. We want to experience all the emotions of parenthood: the joy, the challenges, the growth, and the deep bonds. We know that parenting is a lifelong commitment, and we are prepared to give our future child the support and love they need to thrive. Adoption, to us, is a gift—one that allows us to complete our family and offer a child a place where they will always belong.

With hope and gratitude,

Craig & Andrea

We strive to love stronger and laugh harder than the day before.

Our Faith

Overcoming Obstacles through Christ

Our faith is the foundation of our lives. We're both devoted Christians and have a strong, personal relationship with God. Recently, we began attending a new church with a vibrant youth ministry—the kind of Christ-centered environment we hope to raise a child in.

We were both raised in Christian churches and now, as adults, we truly see how important that upbringing was. Andrea especially loves singing praises to the Lord and spending time in Scripture.

We're excited to be getting reconnected and grounded in our church community, trusting God to lead us forward on this journey. Prayer is an essential part of our daily lives. Even when the only thing we can offer is tears, we know God hears us and is always near.

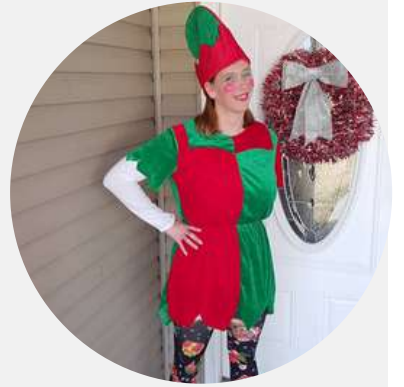

Meet Andrea

I am a simple, down-to-Earth woman with a big heart and an even bigger desire to love your child unconditionally.

Family means everything to me. I treasure every moment spent with our extended family and love the closeness we share. The love Craig and I have built over the years is something I deeply cherish, and I'm so excited to watch him step into the role of Dad—I know he'll be amazing.

I have worked at a local doctor's office for the past twenty-five years, forming strong connections with the community I serve. My career has taught me the value of compassion, patience, and dedication – qualities I am excited to bring into my role as a parent.

Though both of my parents have passed, I find comfort in knowing they are watching from Heaven. I believe with all my heart they will be your child's guardian angels, surrounding them with love from above.

With thankfulness, Andrea

I have known from a young age I wanted to be a mom..

I would be honored and thrilled to give love to a child.

Meet Craig

I'm a big family man, and there's nothing more important to me than the love and bond I share with my wife, Andrea. I love her with all my heart, and I am so grateful for the life we've built together. I've had the privilege of working at Dollywood for 25 years, a place that feels like home to me. I truly enjoy what I do, and it has given me a sense of purpose and pride.

Now, as we prepare to grow our family through adoption, I'm filled with excitement and anticipation for this next chapter. I can't wait to see the joy and love a child will bring into our lives. This opportunity is a dream come true for us, and we are ready to welcome your child with open arms and hearts full of love.

My parents are also incredibly excited about the arrival of their first grandchild. They've been eagerly waiting for this moment, and I know they can't wait to shower your little one with love, support, and endless affection. Our family is ready to surround your child with warmth and care, and I am so grateful for the chance to be part of this amazing journey.

With patience, Craig

Welcome to our

HOME

We live in Monroe County, TN, in a peaceful subdivision that's the perfect balance- close enough to town for convenience, yet far enough away to give us that serene, country feel. The sunrises over the mountains are absolutely breathtaking, and every morning feels like a fresh start surrounded by nature.

We live in a cozy three-bedroom house with a garage, and the nursery is all ready to welcome your little one. We've also set aside an extra room to be a dedicated playroom- full of toys, laughter, and imagination.

Our home sits on a half-acre lot, with plenty of space in both the front and backyard—perfect for outdoor play and family fun.

Within Our Walls There is Always Patience, Love, & Good Food.

the only thing missing is the pitter patter of tiny sweet feet.

Our Community Monroe County, TN

We live in a small, rural town that's growing more every day. One of the things we love most about our community is the way everyone comes together to support each other, especially during times of need. We make it a point to show our support for local schools by attending football and basketball games, as well as donating to various organizations. People often ask us which kids we're supporting, and we laugh and say, "All of them!" since we don't have children of our own—yet.

Around the holidays, our town comes alive with festive events, and we love to take part in the fun. Craig has even dressed up as Santa and an elf to help with Christmas parties for my company. We enjoy dressing up as holiday characters and participating in local Christmas parades—it's a wonderful way to spread joy and connect with the community.

A beautiful and wholesome place for family.

Meet the Grandparents

Craig's Parents

Pat & Terry, have decided they want to be called Nana and Papaw.

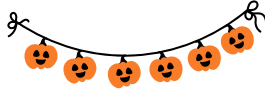

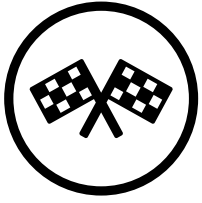

Craig's parents are beyond excited to meet their grandchild and can't wait to shower them with love and affection. Their joy and anticipation are truly heartwarming. Though Andrea's parents are no longer with us, we take comfort in knowing they are cheering us on from Heaven, watching over us and sending their love. We believe they will be with us in spirit, guiding us as we start this new chapter of our lives.

More Things About Us

We love spending time together and have a variety of interests that bring us joy. One of our favorite activities is going to the NASCAR races at Bristol, where the energy and excitement are unmatched. We're also huge Disney lovers and enjoy taking trips to the parks whenever we can. Whether it's packing a picnic for a relaxing afternoon, attending concerts, or simply enjoying sports, we find happiness in all of it. Our house is a house divided—I'm a Tennessee fan, and Craig's an Alabama fan, but we always keep the rivalry lighthearted, so don't hold it against us! We both enjoy doing puzzles, decorating our home for every holiday, and spending quality family time. One of our quirky passions is collecting salt and pepper shakers—we've built quite a fun collection! Most of all, we cherish just being together and always have a blast, whether we're traveling to the beach, Disney, or exploring the history of Washington D.C.
